Latest Advice per H. M. S. S.

Alameda, December 15th.

[From our San Francisco Correspondent.]

Sugar.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—Cuban centrifugals, 96 degrees, 2 9-10 cents; granulated 4 31-100 cents.

The San Francisco market is without feature.

Eastern refiners are now taking kindly to the tariff proposed by the Wilson Bill, as the following dispatch from New York, dated the 5th, plainly shows: "There is every indication that the passage of the Wilson tariff bill will cause either a general closing of all the refineries in the eastern district of Brooklyn, or a big reduction in the wages of employees. A. J. Mollenhauer, an officer of the Mollenhauer Sugar Refining Company of Brooklyn, whose refinery was only recently completed at a cost of $1,000,000, spoke forcibly of the injurious effect of the new tariff bill should it become a law. Between 40,000 and 45,000 barrels of sugar are used daily in the United States, which shows how important the sugar industry is. If the Wilson bill becomes a law this country will become the dumping ground for the refineries of all the other countries, and we cannot compete with them unless we reduce our prices and to reduce the price of sugar we would have to cut wages. At present we are paying unskilled labor from $1.50 to $1.80 a day, while in Germany the prevailing rate is 30 cents a day. If we want to keep running we would have to make an extensive cut and pay unskilled laborers as little as 20 or 25 cents. According to Mr. Mollenhauer there are between 3,500 and 6,000 men employed in the different refineries along the Williamsburg water front, and nearly all are heads of families. This would indicate that at least 20,000 persons would be affected if the refineries in Brooklyn close."

The Ways and Means Committee has yet to report on the matter of bounty. This is an internal revenue measure, and the internal revenue bill of the committee is yet to be reported.

The Brazilian Revolution.

The war in Brazil still rages, with little advantage to either side, excepting that Peixoto has thus far succeeded in repulsing the rebels in all their efforts to make a landing in the harbor of Rio. Several sorties have been made in the past two weeks with severe loss to both combatants. The splendid fort, Viethery, in Rio harbor has been bombarded till it is now little less than a ruin, although its armament is still good and it keeps up the fire on the rebel fleet and forts. On December 1st Mello succeeded in escaping from the harbor with his flagship after a hot engagement. He has been shut in for months and his other vessels are still in the trap. It is thought that he proposes to meet the warships of Peixoto that are now on the way to give him battle. Some of the new Government vessels are very formidable, and when they come into an engagement the first opportunity will be afforded to test the dynamite cruiser in actual war. In addition to this there is Ericsson's famous monitor, Destroyer, which is about to start south in company with the dynamite cruiser. A hot conflict is expected and the chances are against the rebels. The Government forces on the 14th succeeded in setting fire to one of the rebel gunboats in the harbor, but the patriots were shelled and driven away before they could finish their work. The Destroyer carries two tons of gun cotton for use in the dynamite gun, which is fired under water and is calculated to sink a vessel with one shot.

The Brazilian cruiser America, which left New York for Rio on December 4, was disabled off the Barbadoes by some traitor, who broke one of the principal valves of her engine. She will be delayed a long time.

Cost of Trans-Pacific Cable.

A dispatch from Montreal dated the 14th says: The new proposal of Sanford Fleming for a Trans-Pacific cable, which he intends submitting to the Canadian and Australian Governments, contains four alternate routes, all of which have Vancouver as the Canadian terminus. The length of the shortest route, including branches, will be 6,254, and the longest 6,294 nautical miles. The cost of the former is estimated at £1,380,000 and the latter at £1,325,000. The proposed rate of 2 shillings a word for transmission over the new cable would reduce the rate between Australia and England to 3s. 6d. a word instead of 4s. 9d., as at present.

Assuming the fixed charge to be £144,350 a year and the cable completed in 1897, Fleming estimates a deficiency of £31,000, £20,000 and £50,000 for 1897, 1898 and 1899, respectively. The fourth year there would be a surplus of £20,000, which will be increased gradually to £60,000 in 1906. These figures also include a provision for extinguishing the subsidies now paid.

American News.

The trial of Prendergast, the assassin of Mayor Harrison of Chicago, is now in progress. The prisoner's counsel put in a plea of insanity but Prendergast objected to being tried as an insane man, and declared that he was of sound mind. The general public agrees with him and there is little doubt that he will be convicted and hanged.

Chris Evans, the famous bandit of the Evans-Sontag gang, who robbed railroad trains and killed five officers before he was shot down and captured, has had his trial. The jury found him guilty of murder in the first degree, but recommended that he be imprisoned for life instead of executed. Evans took the verdict very coolly, but his wife fainted when he was taken back to jail for life. John Sontag, Evans' partner in crime, died from his wounds after capture and George Sontag, the other robber, is in prison for life. He led an attempted jail break last summer and was shot several times making him a hopeless cripple. His testimony went to convict Evans, whom he blames for wrecking the lives of himself and brother.

Foreign News.

The comment of the English press on Cleveland's message is very, very, flattering to the President, as the following shows:

"Not often has an American President delivered so statesmanlike a message. It is courageous throughout and reveals that the President has a strong mind with a definite policy. He risks giving offense to the admirers of spread-eagleism by repudiating a breach of international etiquette."

The Pail Mail Gazette says: "President Cleveland's frank, honest, statesmanlike attitude regarding Hawaii may well cause ex-President Harrison to hide his head in order to hide his blushes."

The St. James' Gazette says: "Cleveland's tone toward foreign states contrasts agreeably with that adopted by his predecessors and himself." The same paper adds: "It is enough that he is now courteous to us and scrupulously fair to Brazil and Hawaii. Whether the unlucky royal family of Honolulu will be any better off for the President's disavowal of Stevens and his acts is an inquiry which need not be pursued."

The paper applauds Cleveland's courage.

Rebels and Federal forces in Mexico had a fight on the 26th, growing out of an ambush by the rebels. A detail of 250 Federal soldiers were ambushed by about 200 rebels, and the loss of life by the former was nearly 200. Only a few escaped by flight. The others were butchered.

A Hawaiian Dinner.

The St. Denis Hotel New York, was the rendezvous for Hawaiians on Thanksgiving evening. Twenty-three young people from Honolulu sat down to an elaborate dinner, after which several toasts were given, the toast master being Mr. Joseph Cooke, who is at present a senior in Yale. The principal toast was on Hawaii by Hon. Lorrin A. Thurston, the Hawaiian Minister to Washington. Enthusiasm ran high on the present status of the political situation, there being but one side to the question, as there can only be to one who has a correct knowledge of the condition of that country. Those present were of the "foreign element" of which Mr. Blount speaks in his report who, although being born in Honolulu are of American parentage. The opinion of all was that the monarchy would never be restored and that in the near future a republic would be proclaimed. Those present were, Mr. Lorrin A. Thurston, of Washington, D. C. Messrs. Joseph Cooke, William Cooke, Montague Cooke, James Judd, Albert Judd, William Baldwin, Arthur Baldwin, Frank Baldwin, from Yale College; Mr. Alexander Atherton from Wesleyan University; Messrs. Ernest Waterhouse, John Waterhouse, Jr. Henry Waterhouse Jr. George Waterhouse, from Princeton college; the Messrs. Cooke and Stoddard from Oakland, Cal.; Miss Dickson from New York; Miss Andrews, Miss Hildebrand, Miss Waterhouse, Mr. Ernest Lyman, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Wood, from Brooklyn.

JOY AND GLADNESS

HOW YESTERDAY'S NEWS WAS RECEIVED.

Royalists Succumb to a Great and Heavy Gloom When they Hear the Joyful Tidings.

[From Saturday's Daily.]

The news of the death blow to royalist hopes was received in various ways yesterday. Naturally, after the exciting times of the last week, the loyal people of Hawaii were relieved of the great tension that they have been under, and were correspondingly joyful.

But the royalists—the poor royalists. They had gathered in crowds to witness the triumphant carrying out of Cleveland's orders to Willis, expecting that the queen would surely be taken to the throne of her non-ancestors as soon as possible after the Alameda's arrival. They were jubilant. The Provisional Government would surrender at once, the queen would go back and they would all be appointed to Government positions, vice annexationists, beheaded. This was the supposed programme.

When the full import of the news was fully known, however, there was a distinct change. Faces that were broadened by hopeful, confident smiles, lengthened with a perceptible drop. Prominent royalists jumped into hacks and were rapidly driven to the houses of other prominent royalists, where consultations galore were held. Each assured the other many times that "everything was all right," "don't give up yet," and with such expressions tried to avert the feeling of despair that was overwhelming them.

As soon as any news could be obtained, work was begun on an extra edition of the ADVERTISER. It was out by 8:30 and was eagerly sought after by everyone. Royalists read it, and their faces fell still more. Annexationists read it, and looked as though nothing could have been brought them that would prove so satisfactory a Christmas gift. The papers could hardly be printed fast enough to supply the demand for them.

One rather laughable incident occurred in front of the ADVERTISER office. A man who has been prominent in royalist affairs came to this office to get an "extra." He took it out on the sidewalk to read, and to try and get a little comfort from it if possible. As soon as the headings struck his eye, he did not wait to read the body of the article, but tore the paper into bits, and scattered it to the four winds of Heaven.

The difference between American and royalist enterprise was shown in the publications of the day. The ADVERTISER and Star both printed extras giving the news that has been so anxiously awaited, and in its regular edition the latter paper had a full page devoted to the Hawaiian matter. The Bulletin had a few columns with a weak attempt to prove that something different was meant by the news than the facts in the case. The Holomua came later, but, of course, did not cut any figure.

Altogether, yesterday was a sad day in Hawaiian history, and one that will long be remembered in Honolulu. It brought with it a feeling of calm that will go a long way in promoting the spirit of "Peace on earth, good will toward men," that should characterize the Christmas season.

SANTA CLAUS

Makes His Appearance at Central Union Church.

Santa Claus, in persona personibus, has arrived at last, and made his first appearance at Central Union Church Friday evening.

The Sunday School rooms of the Church were crowded with children, and all looked expectant and happy in the thought that at last the coming of their patron saint was so near. In the center of the room was the tree, which was brilliant with lights and ornaments.

After a short introductory service, led by Mr. Waterhouse, the superintendent, Santa made his appearance. He was greeted with cheers and clapping of hands by the little ones. He circulated around among the children and gave them a cheery message of Christmas, and then the work of distributing the presents began. Each child had a gift, besides a box of candy. D. W. Corbett took the part of the Christmas saint.

After the presents were given out ice-cream and cake were given the children and their guests.

Men Want To Come.

Some time ago the manager of a detective system throughout the country was in this city, and made some effort, ineffectually, with Consul Wilder to have him engage a thousand or two thousand men in aid of the Hawaiian Government.

"Somehow they have got an idea we want men down there," said Consul Wilder, "but we have no use for any men. As it is, we have twenty men in favor of the present Government where there is one against it."—S. F. Chronicle.

FROM HAMAKUA.

The Repairs on the Pacific Mill Nearly Finished.

HONOKAA, Dec. 19.—The steamer Waialeale, which was expected on Saturday last, made her appearance at the Honokaa landing about 1 o'clock. She brought, as usual, an inter-island mail, with a little sprinkling of foreign mail; but the news was not important. Yesterday on account of a heavy swell she did not take in any sugar, but is now loading a few thousand bags of that product, and may leave at any moment today. She will take down the Honolulu engineers and laborers that came to repair the Pacific Mill of Kukuhaele.

The rain has continued, and nearly every morning and evening we have had a good shower. Those who possess wooden tanks and cisterns, have now a supply of water, which will last them from four to six months. During the remainder of this month and of the first two of the coming year we will have an abundance of water.

The Pauha Plantation has caused a wooden railing to be constructed down the whole descent of the trail leading to the bottom of the gulch where the late accident happened.

Mr. Paul Jarrett, head overseer of Parker's estates on Hawaii, was in town last Sunday; he reported everything political and private very quiet at Waimea.

Some former native adherents of Mrs. Dominis have recently shown their approval of the Provisional Government, by promptly paying their real estate and personal taxes.

School matters have been very quiet, and since the coming of the new teachers everything is progressing finely. Christmas vacation commences on Friday, the 23d, and will last about two weeks. School work will begin again on January 7, 1894.

C. H. White, the discharged teacher and principal of the Honokaa school, was to have left for Honolulu some time ago, but still remains here, hoping, perhaps, to be reinstated in his former position.

Our mail service is very good now, and thanks are due to the post officials at Honolulu, who take pains in supplying us with a semi-weekly mail, which enables our friends in Honolulu to hear more frequently from our surf-beaten coast than formerly.

Mrs. R. T. Rickard and Miss Annie Beers, lately reported to have been sick, are still housed invalids; strong hopes of recovery are expressed.

The Honokaa and Pauha mills are still grinding and turning out, daily, tons of fine, white sugar. A 125-lb. sack, at Pauha, is selling for $5.30, and at Honokaa for $6. Those of Pauha or Honokaa are equally white and fine.

The repairs to the Pacific Sugar mill are nearing completion, and the Honolulu employees expect to leave by the Waialeale as soon as she returns.

The building of the Honokaa jail is progressing, and the carpenters expect to have it soon ready to accommodate some anxious lodgers. It is a solid building of 30 x 32 feet, with eight cells 10 feet high by 8 x 12 feet, with a hallway 6 feet wide. Two-inch planks are used in its construction, and iron grooving is used. It will easily accommodate fifty troublesome persons.

Potatoes, corn, beans and other vegetables are now being planted, and people that have lost money during the late drought, hope to repair their losses by planting enough food to satisfy the whole Hamakua and Hawaii markets.

As this may be the last to be heard from this district till after Christmas, all Hamakua join in sending their usual annual greetings to their political friends and foes, and especially to all those employed or connected in any way with the DAILY PACIFIC COMMERCIAL ADVERTISER and GAZETTE.

A MERRY CHRISTMAS AND HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL.

"WE ARE ALL RIGHT"

Cleveland's Action Condemned by Almost Everyone.

"I have come home to consult with the Government," said Minister Thurston, Friday. "The Hawaiian question has assumed such magnitude in Washington, that it has become one of the greatest of issues. It rests now on a question of international law that is absorbing its interest to the American people. The Provisional Government is all right."

H. W. Severance, who was Consul General here at the time of the "late unpleasantness" also returned by the Alameda, and was strong in his assertions that Cleveland's proposed action was a measure that was meeting with the strong condemnation of not only the Republicans but of his own party also.

Hawaiians Married Abroad.

About five weeks ago Miss Lizzie Cross came from Honolulu to visit her sister, Mrs. J. W. Duquette of University Heights. A week ago Thos. Christley arrived also from Honolulu, and the object of his visit was made manifest yesterday at 9:15 A. M. at St. Paul's church, Rev. H. B. Restarick officiating, when the two were united in marriage. They left on the afternoon train for San Francisco, from whence they will embark on the first steamer for Honolulu.—San Diego and San Diego Sun, Dec. 1.

A Generous Offer.

A letter was received by Judge A. S. Hartwell by Friday's steamer, from Charles Brewer of Boston, offering $5000 at any time it was needed in aid of the Provisional Government.

Cleared For Action.

H. B. A. S. Champion had drill on board this morning. The cruiser cleared for action.—Bulletin, Dec. 22.

The United States is also cleared for action, and the Champion can now take a rest.

New Advertisements

How often it has been said by the croakers that there is no business, everything is dead, times are hard, and everything is going to the bad here in Honolulu, but the California Feed Co. are not built that way; we say business is good and getting better every month. And to prove what we say we have had to take larger and more commodious warehouses. We have just completed arrangements with Mr. J. F. Colburn, whereby he gives up his old stand, corner Queen and Nuuanu streets. We take possession on November 15th. Our old place at Lele is too small for our fast increasing business, hence the change.

We expect the Hawaiian bark Mauna Ala to arrive here again in a few days with her fourth full cargo of hay and grain bought by our Mr. J. N. Wright who will arrive on the bark. We prefer to select our merchandise ourselves rather than have others do it, which means that we get better goods at a less price.

We thank our many friends for their liberal patronage for the past three years, and hope by strict attention to a business we thoroughly understand to merit the patronage of as many more.

We intend to keep a large, well selected stock of the very best hay and grain to be had in the California market, and we are going to sell it.

Administrator's Sale of Real Estate.

PURSUANT TO AUTHORITY conferred upon me by order of His Honor W. Austin Whiting, First Judge of the Circuit Court, First Circuit, on the 19th day of December, 1893, I shall, on WEDNESDAY, the 10th day of January, 1894, at 12 o'clock noon, in front of the Station House, on Merchant Street, in Honolulu, Island of Oahu, offer for sale to the highest bidder, the following described property, belonging to the Estate of Mariano Camacho, deceased:

All that piece or parcel of land situate at Kaakapa, between Port Street and Emma Street, Honolulu, early opposite the East end of Kuku Street, described as follows: Beginning at the South corner of this lot, that is at the West corner of Kihikapua land, from which the Government Survey Station on Punchbowl lies N 85° 45' E true meridian, thence running N 50° E (magnetic 1871) 35.5 feet along Kihikapua lot; thence N 38° W 66 feet; thence S 48° 30' W 51.3 feet to the South corner of Kihikapua lot; thence S 32° E 40 feet along Ahuli lot; thence S 36° 30' E 24.5 feet along Makanahele to the place of beginning, (all said bearings being magnetic) containing an area of 5435 square feet; (surveyed by C. J. Lyons, 1871) said land being a portion of Apana 1, Royal Patent 142, Land Commission Award 1592 to Kapa.
